BOURKE'S BLOOD.

The Senate Discussing its Infallibility Against Lobby Influence.

Washington, June 9.—In the senate a bill was read by sections for amendment, and a long discussion ensued upon a proposition to equalize the salaries of house and senate employes, by a reduction in the salaries of the latter. The proposition was agreed to—68 to 3. Bills were introduced and referred as follows: By Mr. Jonas, of Louisiana, supple-Special Correspondence of The Constitution.

Washington, June 7.—Colonel Farrow says that the judgeship contest may go on a month yet. He also says he means to stick to his friend Atkins to the last. A month ago the appointment of this gentleman was virtually determined on. He is now the president's preference for the place. The weight of outside influence has been for Judge Mcbe members of the tariff commission, rule 66 be suspended, so that said question shall be considered in an open session, and not with closed doors." Mr. McMillan reserved all cay, and has had its effect. Attorney General Brewster has put his disapproval on the syndicate's choice, and will do what he can for Judge McCay's appointment. The strong Cameron influence has also been turned in his favor. The presence of Colonel Farrow and Judge Bigby indicates a bitch in their programme. They are frequently in consultation with Mr. Akkins and have seen the president several who in the race, and I believe said few and application has been made by him. Yet he is looked on as willing to serve his country on the district bench. It has been observed that the syndicate shifts its programmevery nearly. Colonel Parrow was the chosen successor of Andrew Clark, but as the fight warmed on awas taken from his quite and Walter Johnson was taken from his quite and Walter Johnson went overboard and Golonel Farrow stepped into the custom house. Mr. Atkins has been considered it was price and the consultance of the proposal dividence of the propo ment in connection with this legislation. He did not complain of this, but if a reputable gentleman had been employed he was disposed to regard the bill more favorably on that account. Mr. Morgan said the charge de affairs of the Japanese government was the only representative of that government of whom he had knowledge in the premises. Mr. Sherman thought that whether attorneys were employed or not entirely immaterial. He believed there was no deliberative body in the world freer from lobby influence than the senate of the United States, and when ontside influences were introduced there effect was almost invariably to injure the cause they espoused. He then discussed the merits of the bill, urging that the subject be ultimately disposed of in some positive manner. After further remarks by Messrs. Maxey, Bayard and Windom, the bill was laid aside without action, and the senate, at 4:20, after a short executive session, adjourned until Monday.

familiar figure in Washington and the offices of the new court are attracting national attention. The stalwart organ, the Republican, has severely attacked Judge McCay as a "Joe Brown man," and declares his appointment would be a cession of the patronage in Georgia to a "bourbon" senator. The Columbus post-office had a hard time getting a nomination, and now a contest over Arnold's confirmation is probable. He is the syndicate's man. Some of these office givers have been wanting the removal of Mr. Kerr Boyce, assistant postmaster at Augusta, but that Monday.

Meekleham, asking that the remains of Thomas Jefferson be removed from Virginia to Washington for interment, and that a monument be there erected to his memory. Referred. The house at 4:30 took recess until 7:30, the evening session to be for the consideration of the pension bills.

Postmaster-General Howe appears to be a figure head, and Frank Hatton bosses the entire concern with a stalwart rod. LUMBERTON, N. C., June 9.—Fuller details have been received of the fatal fight between two women of St. Paul's township. They met by appointment to settle their differences, and the struggle between them must have been a terrible one. Policeman Porter getting on the track at the upper end of the depot pushed the crowd back and cleared the way, shouting at the top of his voice. As the train rolled in the track was lined on either side. It was not known what sleeper Mr. Hill was in, and there was no rush for any particular car. The conditator of the trouble with lumbermen and their whisky during Major Runee's time, state that the pine is of the first quality, accessible to the river, and that there is no better cedar in river, and that there is no better cedar in Minnesota. It keeps these Indians busy in watching the maneuvering of greedy lumbermen. In the vicinity of Red Lake falls hardwood and pine are said to have been cut during the winter by hordes of Swedes and carried off to their homesteads. There is no doubt that large quantities of timber are cut every winter on this reservation. A person need for any particular car. The conductor of the

THE SENATOR'S APPEARANCE.

Almost immediately the door of the sleeper opened and the tall form of Senator Hill emerged therefrom. He was entirely unsupported, although his son, Ben Hill, Jr., followed him closely. It is fair to say that Mr. Hill's first appearance was a relief to his friends. None of them had seen him since the terrible third operation, and the reports received from him had led them to expect winter on this reservation. A person need only go to the very margin of the reserve at any point of its boundary to hear the lumberman's ax. These Indians did hope that the government would do something for them lead that the contract of the second secon last winter. The majority, especially the younger class, are desirous of a change to a good agricultural spot. The Red Lake Indians have always had the name of being the most the terrible third operation, and the reports received from him had led them to expect the worst. They were prepared to see an emaciated and tottering form. On the contrary, Mr. Hill appeared to be in almost his usual flesh, and his step was firm. He was dressed neatly. Around his head was tied a white strip which covered the jaw, but left most of the face exposed. His lips were drawn closely together, and the left side of his face was slightly drawn on account of the absorbent cotton with which his mouth was filled. He stood for a moment on the platform erect, and looked over the crowd. His eyes were clear, but there was a drawn fixed looked in them that betokened weariness and pain. He suddenly raised his hand to his peaceful and industrious of all the bands. It has been conceded to them by the government inspectors, and it is strange to them how the government can leave them so helpless, especially since their treaty, which ran out three years ago. All that the fifteen hundred here have to depend upon is their husdred here have to depend upon is their husbandry, pushing the majority thereby into the hunt for their sustenance. Their annuity, which is a gratuity, consists chiefly in three feet blankets, and these never arrive until a time when they are of little use to them.

They are reported out of food and their children crying for baead. The men express themselves willing to work, and some of them are already employed in hauling government stores from Webster, Dakota. The agent, Mr. Cressy, sent word by the Indian police for these parties to return to their agency, but they seemed disinclined to do so, as they say there is no food for them there. The captain has engaged to exert all his influence to secure food and employment for these creatures, and is awaiting instructions from General Terry.

On yesterday at 1 o'clock a large number of our citizens gathered at the depot to meet Senator Hill. Although this was the third time the crowd had gathered, and although an attempt was made to keep the crowd within limits for fear of exciting Mr. Hill—still the depot was packed, and the dispatch had been received stating that the senator was on the train.

Mr. Hill can walk about and handle himself very well. He cannot eat solid food, being unable to chew, but eats beef chipped very fine. He has not lost much flesh. He does not talk very plainly, as his tongue in healing has adhered to the lower part of the mouth and he cannot raise it over his teeth. His mouth is usually kept full of absorbent cotton, and the doctors urge him to talk as little as possible. Hi it is necrosis that is attacking his jaw, a secondary growth of bone will follow the death of the present bene, his tengue can be clipped and his speech entirely restored. Mr. Hill has made an unmistakable gain in strength in the past month, and in gain in strength in the past month, and in any event there will likely be no decisive news from him in some considerable time.

any event there will likely be no decisive news from him in some considerable time.

There is a theory that has intelligent support, and that is this: That Mr. Hill has never had cancer at all—that his jaw bone was diseased, and the inflammation from this source produced the sore on his tongue. This theory gets confirmation from the fact that the bone is now coming out. A dentist in North Carolina wrote that he had many eases where the amalgam in a tooth, or rather the mercury in the amalgam had poisoned the nerves in the tooth, and finally the bone itself. Mr. Hill had several amalgam pluss in the jaw that is affected. The pieces of the bone that have come out of the jaw will be submitted to the most careful examination. Of course this is most careful examination. Of course this is a mere theory, but it has intelligent support. All that the public can do is to hope for the

Mr. Hill expressed great joy at getting home once more, and took a nap yesterday afternoon that refreshed him very much. Since the pieces of bone came out of his jaw the incessant pain has been somewhat abated, and he is more comfortable now than in weeks. Several persons called yesterday, but none of them were silewed to see the senator. While Mr. Hill can receive friends who will call judiciously and not tax him more than a few moments, and while these calls may even few moments, and while these calls may even cheer him up, it will injure him very much to be excited into talking or is wearied. The senator is attended by Dr. Wright, a brilliant young Georgian, who was on duty at the hospital in Philadelphia, and who has been with him constantly. Dr. Wright has been untiring and devoted, and is entitled to the gratitude of the people of Georgia for his unremitting kindness to our senator.

For a long time there had been a bad feeling between them. They avoided each other as much as possible, but a list their harred overcame them and they quarreled openly. During the past few days hostile messages had paseed between the two women, the exact tenor of which has not leaked out, although important and sensational developments are looked for before the officers gets through with the affair. At any rate they agreed to fight it out, and met on Friday evening in a secluded dell, not from the main road, and began to settle the trouble between themselves.

Jane McKellar was the larger and more muscular, though her antagonist, while spare, was lithe and quick of motion. Pleasant Trip Through the Pine Pores:s-The Amount of Lumber Shipped-The North Georgia Tellow Pine in Floyd and Polk Counties. Rockmart, l'arlorsville and Judkins, om the Cedartown, Ga., Advertiser,

I have spent a pleasant week through the ine forests. My object was, as I intimated, to learn something in regard to the lumber interest of Polk county. I first thought that I could find out the amount of lumber shipped and cash brought into the county from that source, but found it would be almost impossible to do this since there are over thirty saw mills in Polk of various capacities, and having been shown a map of the yellow pine forests of north Georgia, which are mostly onfined to the counties of Polk and Floyd, by the Messrs. Rogers brothers who are doing a heavy business in the lumber trade near the corner of the three counties. I have concluded to give you a statement of concluded to give you a statement of their operations during the last three months from which you may draw some idea of the extent of the lumber trade in these counties. This map is from the department of interior at Washington, D. C. It exhibits fifty millions feet of long leaf yellow pine timber standing in Polk county, and twenty millions in Floyd. Messrs. Rogers's mills cut from the first of January to the first of May, 1882, 1,435,000 feet of lumber, 1,340,000 shingles, 900,000 laths, and made 30,000 bushels of 1882, 1,435,000 feet of lumber, 1,340,000 shingles, 900,000 laths, and made 30,000 bushels of charcoal from the laps. horse power, and the shingle mill about 25 horse power. They have about seven miles of railroad, engine, cars, etc.

Nearly every district in Polk county is dotted over by saw mills, out particularly the Fish creek district. To locate by the road side on the Euharlee and see the stream of lumber swell like a great water course from its tributaries would convince you at once of the magnitude and value of the lumber trade in Polk. The benefits arising from that trade in Polk. in Polk. From the Perry, Ga., Home Journal. On last Thursday afternoon Coroner A. B. Shilling received a note informing him that a colored woman named Adeline Johnson had come to her death on the plantation of Mr. Barnett Holleman, in the eastern portion of Houston county, under circumstances that rendered it desirable for an inquest to be held. Mr. Shilling could not go, and sent a request that a justice of the peace be called upon to act as coroner. Mr. W. S. King summoned a jury Friday morning and held an inquest over the dead body. The woman Adeline, was working with Enoch Hughs, and it was in evidence that Enoch had been in the habit of severely beating and whipping Adeline, in which he was aided by his wife, Harriet Hughs. It was found that the deceased had been beaten just before her death, and such evidence was adduced that the following verdicts was rendered: "We have been beater and the such search and the suc dict was rendered: "We, the jury, chosen and sworn upon evidence produced, find that Adeline Johnson came to her death on Wednesday, the 31st of May, 1882, by strangulation and blows from the hands of Enoch guiation and blows from the hands of Enoch Hughs and his wife, Harriet Hughs." Signed by W. S. King, acting coroner, and twelve jurymen. A warrant was issued for the ar-rest of Enoch Hughs and Harriet Hughs, on the charge of murder, and they are now in jail at Perry.

From the Covington, Ga., Enterprise. Just about this time every year, many of our citizens have to complain of their milk being bitter, and the butter too, as far as that is concerned. This is caused by the cows eating bitter herbs, such as May weed, rag weed, etc. The Live Stock Journal says it can be avoid-ed, first by correcting errors in feeding; sec-ondly by scalding the milk when it is drawn, by setting it in pans over a kettle of boiling water till the skim which forms on its top is well wrinkled, and then setting it away for cream to rise. This treatment will drive out the cause of the bitter flavor, and improve the butter and make it easy to churn. We would suggest as a sure remedy, that a day be agreed upon by our citizens, and that the agreed upon by our citizens, and that the whole population of every color, turn out with hoes and other warlike implements, and cut it all down. The weed that does the main mischief here, we believe, has a yellow bloom. Being a railroad center, Newnan is entitled to as cheap rates as Atlanta; but, though nearer Savan-nah, we have had to pay more on shipments to the latter city than Atlanta has paid. There is no justice or reason in such a ruling. While we would deny to no other market the full measure of its advantages in location, etc., we seriously object to being deprived of those which we possess; and we are gratified to learn that the railroad managers are determined to regulate this inacquality of mined to regulate this inequality of rates. A Georgia Bonanza. To the North Georgia Cluzen.

It is said a rich strike has just been made in the famous old Magruder mines, in Lincoln county, Georgia, in the shape of a four and a half foot vein of silver, assaying $150 to the ton. The vein bears unmistakable evidence of being a true fissure, and the owners of the mine are very happy over their good fortune. The crop ore in these mines is, like most of the Georgia ores, of the rotten variety, and easily worked. The mines have not been idle in recent years, but a lack of capital has prevented the owners from developing them in as vigorous a manner as they would like to do. With this new strike, however, they will have no difficulty in obtaining the money ecessary to work the property thoroughly The Magruder mines are an old and famous property. Before the war they were worked for gold only, and yielded a profit of one thousand dollars per week, a profit which would be duplicated at the present time if they were vigorously worked.

Washington, June 7.—In the criminal court before Judge Wylie, Colonel Reed, Guiteau's counsel, presented to-day a petition similar to the one recently denied by the tion similar to the one recently denied by the court in general term, asking that the record of the trial be so amended as to show that the late President Garfield died in New Jersey and not in the District of Columbia. Mr. Reed said that he was pressed for time, as Guiteau was under sentence of death to be executed June 30, and he had other motions in view which necessitated a clean record.

Judge Wylie inquired of Mr. Reed what he was expected to do.

was expected to do.

Mr. Reed replied that he wanted a correct record. It was simply a motion to modify the existing record.

The district attorney said this same motion had been made before the court in general term, but Mr. Reed indignantly denied this, and asked Mr. Corkhill if he was prepared to

had been made before the court in general term, but Mr. Reed indignantly denied this, and asked Mr. Corkhill if he was prepared to deny his right to have this correction made, when he knew that it could do the government no earthly harm, and that, if denied, it would greatly embarrass him in his further proceedings. He cited a number of authorities in support of his motion, and appealed to the court in the name of his poor client, who sat looking upon the gallows, to amend the record, which he denounced as a lie.

After hearing some of these authorities read, and frequently interrupting the speaker to point out their inapplicability, Judge Wylie said he was compelled to deny this motion. He did not question the power of the courts to correct it record, but it was not for him, sitting in another term and having no personal knowledge of the record, to undertake to amend it. A general verdict was based upon the good counts in the indictment, the court, in passing sentence, shutting its eyes to the vicious counts.

Mr. Reed argued further in support of his motion, claiming that Mr. Davidge, in the course of the trial, had conceded his right to have this record corrected, but the court held that the matter excepted to was wholly immaterial, and he should be compelled to deny the motion. Mr. Reed said he was glad to be able to say that this did not cut him off, it only embarrassed him. He was glad the court had decided that it had the power to grant his motion, even though it had refused to do so. It proved the correctness of his position. Mr. Reed then, after several sarcastic allusions to the district attorney, thanked the court for the hearing granted him, and the court took up the star route cases.

Guiteau received with outward composure the announcement of the failure of the last effort of his counsel to secure a rehearing of his case. He proceeded to denounce the court in banc as cowards and cranks, and said God had revealed to him in that he was to be taken care of. God, he said, works through human agencies, Composed of the best known tonics, iron and cinchona, with well known aromatics, is Brown's Iron Bitters. An Itemised Account of Some of the Liquors and CI gars Used at Yerktown.

Special to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The exposure of the Yorktown debauch made in these dispatches some days ago was verified when the bills were called for during the consideration of the deficiency bill. The bill for wines, liquors and cigars was made with unblushing particularity and appeared approved by Senator Johnson and paid. The managers of the affair had worked it very shrewdly. They had paid all the questionable bills out of the $40,000 appropriation for the expenses of the centennial, and left such expenditures to be met in the deficiency bill as they knew Congress would be obliged to meet. Thus the whisky bills had been paid while the hotel bills and other legitimate expenses of the French and German visitors had been saved to present as the deficiency. In this way the deficit was run up to over $32,000. The items that actually caused the deficiency should never have been incurred and for the most It is said that elephants can remain standing a whole year without any desire to lie. Davis street, at suc tion—We will sell on the premises to-day, June 16th, at 5 o'clock, two verv desirable four-room Cottage Homes, Nos. 174 and 132

Davis street, on fine level lots 50x190 feet each, fronting on the west side of Davis street, between Rhodes and Magazine streets. No 132 is a nice, new, neat and well finished cottage of four rooms, hall, closets, pantry, front and rear verandahs, painted and plastered throughout; built of the best material, in good style and attractive in appearance. No. 124 is a plain but well built, substantial and comfortable house of four rooms painted and plastered throughout. The lots are both level and nice, sloping gently back so as to drain from front to rear, which is very desirable. There is a well of pure, cold water on each lot. The neighborhood is good, the location quiet, healthy, pleasant, and convenient for homes and renting houses, being only three blocks from Marietta street and the W & A R R, along which nearly all the large manutacturing establishments of the city are and will be located, which add greatly to the value of this property both as homes and as investments. The location insures future enhancement and good interest on cost. Seekers of homes or profitable investments should give the property a careful examination and attend the sale. Mechanics and railroad men can find no better location for homes, and should be on hand at the sale. Titles all right. Terms—Y cash, belance 2 and 6 months at 8 per cent. ATLANTA, GA., JUNE 10, 1882 SUPREME COURT DECISIONS. The Supreme Court Decisions for February term 1882, are now ready. Price one dollar.

THE signal service bureau report indicates to-day, for the south Atlantic states, local rains, easterly to southerly winds, with stationary or a slight rise in temperature in the northern portion; slight rise in barometer.

DIRECTORY reading is as the man said of the dictionary, interesting reading, though rather disconnected. It will afford much amusement to look over, and some of the odd facts to be found are collected elsewhere.

THE election of Dr. Calhoun, as president of the eye and ear section of the American medical association, is a deserved honor from one of the most conservative bodies in the country to Atlanta's distinguished optician.

THE Belt railroad develops still further, and new it is said that fall will see it con pleted. If it is done then there will be great er rejoicing than if Atlants had well paved streets, no dust, a fine park or any one of a dozen desirable things.

OUTRAGES in Ireland are now so common a volley of musketry is something rather out of the common, and a very bad sign of the We can stand it if the state can. state of Ireland; showing that organized resistance to law and commission of crime is strong as ever. ELECTION contests in the house are dwindling into farces. The republicans seem to think it funny to disregard decency and justice in seating contestants. The right is bound to prevail in the end. When a man has been elected to an office, and is kept out of it, he is bound sooner or later to fill that office in spite of his opponents.

Pouk county is doing a heavier business in lumber than most people realize. When one firm cuts a million and a half feet of lumber in a quarter, the proportions of the whole trade can be estimated. Besides the lumber turned out by the county's thirty saw mills, there are several furnaces and quarries which add largely to the interests of Georgia.

GEORGIA's honored and beloved senator has at last reached his home. The touching scenes on his arrival bear witness to the affect tion in which he is held and to his attachment to his home. Those who witnessed the arrival were surprised at the strength of Mr. Hill. who was supposed to be so near death. The outlook for his future is certainly reassuring.

The meeting should be well attended. If a nong the gentlemen who signed the call will give Atlanta such a Fourth of July as she has never had before.

MR. TUCKER and the other defenders of the extravagant bills for the spree at Yorktown a that the bills were incurred for the French quests. There were some two dozen of these gentlemen. Did they smoke the twelve thouand three hundred cigars charged, and did they chew the seven pounds of chewing to bacco and the gross of fine cut which appears in the bill? or did they drink the hundred gallons of brandy and whisky mentioned, and who had the solitary bottle of rum? The details of this legalized debauch are shocking and shameful and the bill is outrageous.

ALABAMA seems well pleased with her new state ticket. General O'Neal, who heads the list as candidate for governor, is a native of the state and was born in Madison county in 1818. He is a man of spotless character. The first office he ever held was that of solicitor of his circuit in 1841. In 1875 was a member of the constitutional convention and was a Hancock elector for the state at large. He is a successful lawyer, and fought in the recent The one makes sugar and the other makes war. Mr. Ellis Phelan, of Birmingham, the mince for secretary of state, has been for a mber of years clerk of the house of representatives. Captain I. H. Vincent, of Cham hers county, has already filled the offic of treasurer for two terms, and his comination is testimony of the appreciation in which his services are held by his party and people. Colonel H. C. Tompkins, of Montgomery, was nominated for the attorney generalship, an office which he has held for four years. Hon. J. M. Carmichael of Dale, who has filled the office of state audi tor for one term, was indorsed by a renomina tion. Colonel H. C. Armstrong, of Macon. has for two years conducted without fault the office of superintendent of education. Taken altogether the ticket is very strong.

CAPRVING THE DOUBTFUL DISTRICTS. We have not had much to say about the effect of the gubernatorial nomination or the doubtful districts. We offer a suggestion on that point this morning to the thoughtful democrats of the state.

What would be the effect of the defeat of Mr. Stephens by the democratic convention? Let us see. When Mr. Stephens was first suggested the independents claimed that he would run as their candidate. The demoratic press and the democratic party at once lemanded that he should put himself right

Now, Mr. Stephens was well assured of the support of the independents and an almost solid negro vote if he would only yield to the of a hide-bound, thin-ribbel constitu-state. We say very frankly, as we said then, PUBLISHED DAILY AND WEEKLY that the chances were in favor of his succeeding with this programme. What had the democrats offered him? Nothing. He was not assured of the support of a single democratic paper nor of a single delegation.

But what answer did he make? He came out squarely and fairly and put his banner in the hands of the democratic delegates. He said to them: "If you want me to bear it, I must receive it from your hands. If you wish me to retire, hand it to some one else, and I will still follow it." There never was more complete abnegation-a more patriotic and absolute statement.

Suppose the democrats, having thus secured Mr. Stephens's complete adhesion, having "bound him hand and foot" as the independents say, should defeat him. How the cry of treachery and deception would ring through the state. How Mr. Stephens's friends would denounce the trick through which their favorite had been captured and then betraved. In our opinion such action would create such a revolt against the organization that it would beat the nominees in most of the contested districts. We wager that if Mr. Clements, who will certainly run against Dr. Felton, had to name the candidate, he would select Mr. Stephens. So would the executive committee of the 7th. We wager the district committee of the 9th would prefer Mr. Stephens as the candidate for governor in their fight against Mr. Speer. It is no answer to say that Mr. Speer and Dr. Felton would also name Mr. Stephens. They had no alternative but to name him. They "recommended" him before he had written the Smith letter. They can do nothing else but "stick." But when Mr. Stephens is nominated on a plat- fact that there is no canal or other the democracy of every district to victory. These suggest ions involve no moral reason They are only warnings. It is our belief that if Mr. Stephens is beaten in the convention Felton and Speer will both be re-elected, and that Judge Hook will carry the eighth. If the same-powerful enough to look after its that they attract little attention as a rule. The the democratic party cares to take these assassination of Mr. Bourke and his guard by | chances, at the call of an inflamed and dictatorial clique, we have no objections to offer.

THE TARIFF COMMISSION.

The president has faithfully adhered to the programme of delay in making up the comssion of nine. The commission was devised for the purpose of gaining time. The monopo lists want an extension of their privileges, and the politicians on either side want to put the settlement of the tariff question beyond the next presidential election. What the monopolists and political managers wanted has been very fully granted, and the people can whistle for relief.

If there ever was any good in the plan of sending tariff reform to a commission for investigation, for facts and figures and useful recommendations, it has been eliminated by the nature of the commission that the president has nominated. With the possible exception of young Mr. Porter, not one of the nine has given the subject any considerable attention, and it is much to be doubted convictions they may entertain relative to other were put aside to make room for Ambler and the Lone Fisherman. But delay was all that was desired by those in contro manner will take place at the mayor's office. article as congress can be induced to accept. tion of the rates of postage. Senator Maxey, Fourth of July is worth celebrating at all it is free-trader or revenue reformer. Ex-Governor It was a great and difficult question-one not worth celebrating well. Active co-operation | Phelps is said to favor reform, but it is very uncertain whether he does or not, and if so, what extent. He was born in Connecticut, and is nearly seventy years of age, and no very great amount of work will be done by him one way or the other. Judge Underwood openly declares that his particular mission in the commission will consist in an effort to reduce internal taxation. As congress expressly confined the commission to a consideration of means that he will strive first, last and always to maintain the present scale of duin order that the system of internal taxation may be abolished, > commission to a man is beyond all doubt packed in favor of protection. Packed as it is, and made up as it is of men who have never made the subject a study except in the way of serving special interests, it will command the respect of no one, and its conclusions will go the way of congressional documents generally-into the waste basket. The country will not await with eager interest the judgment of Mr. Kenner as to duties on sugars, or of Mr. Oliver in relation to iron. iron, while Messrs. Hayes, Porter and Garland are salaried officials of high tariff asociations. These five men constitute a ma jority of the commission, and there is no evidence at hand that the four other members are not practically of their way of thinking. Mr. Arthur's commission is very much like his entire administration, in the respect that that it serves, not the people, but those who presume to speak for and override the people. It will have no weight whatever in the subs quent tariff proceedings of congress. Its nembers will meet and continue to meet and draw ten dollars a day, and that will be the end of it. THE CLAYTON-BULWER TREATY. Poor old Mr. Frelinghuysen, who wander up and down in the state department in a sort of ghastly confusion, has been engaged n a correspondence with the noble lords and the Clayton-Bulwer treaty. We have frequently had occasion to speak lightly of the liplomatic feats of this vete an pump, but there is no doubt he has had a very hard time of it, with respect to this particular business In the first place, poor old Mr. Frelinghuysen went into office ignorant, not only of technical diplomacy, but ignorant also of that larger and surer kind which plants itself upon the American spirit-the dignity of a proud on this point. The Constitution led in this and powerful republic. Mr. Frelinghuysen knew nothing then and knows nothing now of this American spirit. His whole life has independent programme. He was assured of ency, and he cares nothing for the dignity the vote of thousands of friends all over the of the government or for the standing of the republic abroad. In addition to the capital defects, he has been compelled, in obedience to the demands of the ruling faction which started out to bring the Garfield administration into disrepute at home and abroad, to make an attempt to reverse the foreign policy of that administration. The attempt at reversal was successful so far as the Chilian business is concerned, and the farsighted Britons are now reaping a harvest in consequence of the spoliation of Peru. But the attempt to reverse the policy in regard to the isthmus canal which Mr. Blaine had the honor of formulating, poor old Mr. Freling-huysen has not been at all successful. In point of fact, after a vast deal of correspondence, the men who have been using poor old Mr. Frelinghuysen, are now compelled, after humiliating the country in various directions, to begin negotiations precisely where Mr. Blaine left them off, and, to judge from the symptoms which are manifesting themselves in the organs, that policy will finally be carried through precisely as the Garfield administration proposed it should be. The contrast between their present position and the strictures upon what they were flowers. Let the column move forward. pleased to term the spread-eagleism of Mr. Blaine is altogether gorgeous. They foolishly identified Mr. Blaine, with a distinctively American policy and proceeded to belittle the latter because Mr. Garfield's secretary seized an opportunity to give it expression.

This policy, stated briefly and from a comnon sense point of view, is simply this-that the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, which establishes a sort of copartnership between this country and Great Britain in matters pertaining to the welfare of the American continent, is obsolete-dead, not only by reason of the form that denounces their cause, they must work over which the two countries oppose him, and when they do, he will lead are called upon to exercise a joint protectorate, but because the American republic has outgrown even the necessity of such a treaty; why democrats should support Mr. Stephens, | that the United States are amply able to take care of themselves; that if there is any canal built across the isthmus, this republic is powerful enough to guarantee the neutrality of own interests in the matter and the interests of foreign powers. All this, as a matter of course, is not very satisfactory to the British statesmen, who have been led by their expe rience with the samples we send them to regard the American people as a nation of flunkeys; nevertheless, it is the American policy, and, as such, it will supersede the Clayton-Bulwer treaty; it would supersede it if the treaty were now in operation. There is no further need for poor old Mr Frelinghuysen to carry on his labored correspondence with the noble lords and "gents" of England. The necessity for the unrestricted jurisdiction of the United States over any anal that may be cut across the isthmus will upersede all treaties; and the principle that ies behind it will not be resisted by England

REDUCTION OF POSTAGE.

Senator Davis, of West Virginia, offered ast Tuesday a resolution requesting the comnittee on post-offices and post roads to repor upon the expediency of reducing both news paper and letter postage. He stated in support of his resolution that he had information whether a majority of them can furnish on that the post-office department will in the short notice intelligent reasons for any stray next fiscal year be "at least two millions more than self-sustaining," and he therefore custom house matters. Edward Atkinson on thought this a good time to provide the peothe one hand and David A. Wells on the ple with lower rates of postage. Senator Ferry spoke for the committee. He thought he might favor two-cent letter postage, but he gave no intimation that he would do much for second class matter. "Great dailies will," he said, "be benefitted by the reduction of newspaper postage; but the country papers, all things considered, will not be." This is probably as broad a view of the matter as the senator is willing or perhaps able to take. He fails to see that the the tariff, the learned Rome judge doubtless | tax which congress spitefully levied on newspapers, is a tax on intelligence, which the consumer pays in one form or another. If the subscription price is not enhanced by it as i the case in numerous instances, the quality or at least largely reduced. In a word, the of the taxed journals is depreciated by it Like all other taxes and expenses it is borne by the consumer. The men who read newspapers are more deeply interested in newspaper postage than the publishers even of what the learned Maxey calls "the great dailies."

A few of the democratic papers, since Mr. Stephens's open letter, have been fighting him as candidate for governor. We believe Mr. Stephens to be the man that the majority of the people desire to govern them. He has announced his democracy; will be only a democratic candidate, and yet they are not satisfied. The independent press did their utmost to make Mr. Stephens believe that he was being whipped in with the party lash. It was their greatest desire to cause a rupture between he and the party in the state. In this they most signally failed. Mr. Stephens, in effect, says that the democratic party of Georgia does not belong to him, but that he belongs to it. Now, what more can they want to satisfy them? But few will say he is not the choice of the people and it seems to us that that should be sufficient.

Elberton New South.

We confess our wish to see him receive the nomination for governor without a dissenting voice from the democratic party. He has consented to accept the nomination from that party, declaring as the same time that he would accept it from no other party or combination, though his preference is to retire from politics altogether. This affords the people of Georgia an opportunity to shelve for awhile the medicority that has aspired to fill the gubernatorial chair for the last twelve years, and to place therein a governor of which they may feel justly proud bringing the old state back to its former respectability and greatness.

We hope all bitterness on account of friendship for lesser aspirants for this responsible position will be laid aside, that the tone of the party may be elevated in Georgia, that the disgruntled office seekers was be forevererushed, and that political harmony Elberton New South.

The nomination of Mr. Stephens is especially acceptable because he is a democrat with democratic principles. Some of the democrats of the present day are more or less imbued with the principles of the republican party, protection of monopoly at the expense of the people, a surrender of state rights, and an acknowledgment and acquiescence in the complete and absolute supremacy of the federal government in all essential matters. The late rain had cooled the atmosphere to a degree that rendered an evening in the opera house very pleasant and as the entertainment was brought to a close without a single mishap all yoted the occasion a most delightful one. The entertainment was commenced by the singing of "Evening Hymn," (Concone) by the school. Following it the following programme was rendered:

2. Overture to Don Juan—two,pianos and organ—Mczart—Misses Ida Hightower, Lula Snook, Susie Reagan, Jessie White, Louise Romare, Ila Stone and Hahr.

Avery.

8 The Rehearsal of Mdlle Beaumont's School for Her Exhibition—La Directrice—Miss L Snook. Les Ecoliers—Misses Mathiel Landauer, Carrie Powers, May Avery, Maggie King, Lella Tuller, Theresa Haiman, Genie Rucker, Julia Clarke and Lula Robertson. appeared at three different times and charmed the audience by the perfection attained by them in this department. They were jaunty red caps and packets trimmed in white with white skirks, and presented a pretty spectacle as they went through the graceful calishenic movements to the tune of most exquisite music by Miss Hahr. In the exercise there were from twenty to thirty young hady substained the part assigned her most admirably. The entertainment was exceedingly chaste in every respect and was a great credit to the ladies who had it in charge. The several ladies of the school have every reason to be proud of their success. Miss Hahr, who has charge of the music department, although still "in her teens," has made a deservedly high reputation as a brilliant and tained musician, and she showed her skill last night to good advantage both as a performer and ascignment of elecution and calisthenics, showed that she had a keen perception of the duties required in her department.

At the conclusion of the exercises the prizes, were awarded as follows, the presentations being made by Coloned I. W. Avery in a happy manuser.

The young ladies did remarkably well in the respective parts required of them. Miss May Avery was encored, and all received unstituted applause.
The song "Aimons La Vie," as sung by Miss Gussie Morgan was particularly good, "Overture to Poet and Peasant" was splendidly executed, as was also "Overture to Trancred!." The Calisthenic exercise was especially beautiful. The young ladies appeared at three different times and charmed the audience by the perfection attained by them in this department. They wore jaunty red caps and presented a pretty spectacle as they went through the graceful calisthenic movements to the ture of

JOLLY JULY

Out and Aid in the Dwork.

The present indications are that Atlanta will celebrate the fourth of July as she has never celebrated it before. The Constitution has given it a boom, and the day will be a grand one. Early vesteday morning a call brother. It had rather not finance them. They don't set off a pretty stand like mine."

If thought you would sell more than a boother. for a meeting of citizens for to-night at 8 o'clock at Mayor English's office was circulated throughout the city, and in less than two hours nearly three hundred names had been secured. The petition read and was inned as follows:

"To darkies. They all like peanuts, and when they pass the stand and catch the aroma arising from a bag of hot peanuts they are sure to feel for a nickel. Then I sell lots to business men who don't go home to dinto business men who don't go to a bar for the sell of t

The meeting will doubtless be a big one as nearly every gentleman who signed the paper promised to attend and take part in the arrangements. It is proposed to call the meeting to order at 8 o'clock sharp, and then proceed to an organization by electing a president and other officers. The president will be empowered to appear to a proposition empowered to appoint a committee upon arrangements, a committee upon amuseempowered to appoint a committee upon amuse ments, and a committee upon subscription. The meeting will certainly be a large one, and will, as is apparent from the names printed in this column, be composed of the leading business men of the place. Therefor, it will not be a hard matter to secure a president who will not exercise the greatest discretion in the selection of his committees. After the meeting to-night the success of the day will depend entirely upon the committees, consequently it is vitally essential to have good committees.

The railroads have done all they can do and if Atlanta will do one-third as much the celebration will be a grand one. The expediture of one thousand dollars—certainly not more than that amount—in "attractions" and advertising will draw at the least calculation.

back willingly but will fight the case to the end. However, he not more than that amount—in "attractions" and advertising will draw at the least calculation ten thousand people to the city. Each of these will spend one dollar, leaving a total of ten thousand dollars for the one expended. Now is the candle worth the game? That is the question the people of Atlanta must settle to-night by making the citizens' meeting a large and enthusiastic one.

The question of amusements will be the feature. The city will need a brass band. Chattanoga is going to celebrate and her band will stay at home, but Marietta can do some good blowing with her brass band—Atlanta, by the way, should have a band—and can doubtless be secured. A fantastic brigade can be organized with but little cost. Forty to fifty men, at tired in cheap, flashy, gay colored suits, mounted upon horses and headed by a tin horf brigade would produce some fun.

walking match has been suggested, and two persons are now energetically training for a contest, whether Atlanta celebrates or not. The governor will be asked to inspect the local military, and an oration will be delivered by some Atlanta gentleman—Mr. Hoke Smith's name having been mentioned in this connection.

THE BELT RAILROAD.

There is Every Assurance That it Will be Built, But the Officials Decline to Talk. The interview in yesterday's Constitution with Hon. Frank P. Rice, discussing the new Belt road was the leading theme for the curbstone orators yesterday and for the leading business men of the city, too, for that matter. on every hand there were expressions of great rejoicing at the probability of the early abate-ment of the greatest and most intolerable nui-sance the city of Atlanta has ever experi-enced, and that that abatement is really to be had there seems now to be no doubt. Said a well known business man of the city: "I had rather have that three miles of road than to own any fifty miles leading into

"Why?" asked a by-stander. "Because it is bound to be a paving investment. This switching of trains in the city, the ringing of bells and blockading the streets must inevitably cease by and by. The town must inevitably cease by and by. The town is growing, the people are becoming more energetic and wide awake, and will not submit to it. There will be some hook or crook to get out of it, and then the railroads will be in a bad fix. Now, you see, the Richmond and Danville will have this track, which is to be built for their own use, and then the other roads will say a good rate or build for them. roads will pay a good rate or build for them-selves. The building will be the biggest ex-

"But is there no doubt about this belt?" "None whatever. Mr. Rice was employed by the vice-president of the Georgia Pacific to buy the right-of-way, and you see by The Construction this morning what he has done. Then, I have just had a talk with a gentleman who is in position to know all the details, and he

Why, there is one gentleman, a lawyer, who hasn't been home to dinners half dozen times in as many years, and he always buys a pint of peanuts about 12 o'clock. So regular is he in the purchase of this cheap meal that I really miss him when he fails to come."

"Oh, yes, but they don't like for it to be known. They will walk inside the store and ask tor a nickel's worth of peanuts in a paper bag and then go home and eat. Little children are fond of them and I catch many a five cent piece from a boy or a girl who goes away happy, munching his peanuts.

each other in fair honorable competition for travel and freight, and to show you how broad and liberal the library makes all its members feel, these two g eat corporations, through their courteous officers, Messrs. Sage and Anderson, have agreed to give the Y. M. L. A., without cost, the first excursion train to Talullah falls. The Richmond and Danville furnish the engine Richmond and Danville furnish the engine and driver and privilege over their track, and the Western and Atlantic railroad furnish ten of their palace coaches. This is the handsomest service the library has ever received, and I think it speaks volumes in favor of the kind and generous gentlemen and the roads they represent. These favors were granted without that persistent begging and coaxing which is always necessary with rich corperations.

Badly Wounded.

As Jack Percy was engaged moving a house on Pryor street yesterday, a jack screw with which he was working slipped out of his hand and struck him under the nose, cutting his entire upper lip away. Surgical aid was rendered by Dr. Graham at the First ward drug which is always necessary with rich corpera-which is always necessary with rich corpera-tions. We hope to carry one thousand people to these lovely falls." "Yes, but when does all this take place?" asked a Constitution representative, who was standing behind Mr. Snook.

"Oh, by George, I didn't see you, or I would have kept my mouth shut. But I will give you plenty of notice of the time."

A Dead Bone Removed. A Dead Bone Removed.

Mrs. Ed. Cox, of Decatur, received a blow on the forehead, just above the left eye, last July, from a well windlass. The lick was a hard one, and the outer table of the frontal bone was so badly injured that necrosis was the result. Since the accident Mrs. Cox has suffered greatly, and in order to alleviate this suffering she determined to submit to an operation. Yesterday morning Dr. F. F. Taber, assisted by Drs. E. H. Green, A. D. Bellamy and John Z. Lawshe, went to Decatur and removed the piece of dead bone. It was two and one-half inches long and two inches broad. Mrs. Cox is getting along nicely, and the physicians say she will very soon recover entirely.

is in position to know all the details, and he assures me that work will be begun just as soon as the right of way has been secured from the Richmond and Danville to the Georgia Pacific. There is no wax in this talk, but real gum. I will bet a thousand the road will be built before fall."

After hearing this conversation The Constitution representative paid a visit to Mr. I. Y. Sage, of the Air-Line, and asked:

"When will you begin building the Belt road?"

"Don't know," was the reply.

"What will it cost to build it?"

"Don't know."

"Don't know."

A Horse Badly Hurt.

Death of Mrs. Catharine Wrenn.

A late number of the Fredericksburg, Va., News conveys the sad intelligence of the death, in that city on Monday, the 5th instant, of Mrs. Catharine Wrenn, wife of Mr. Albert W. Wrenn, and mother of Mr. B. W. Wrenn, and mother of Mr. B. W. Wrenn, and mother of Mrs. B. W. Wrenn, and Messrs.

A. B. and J. B. Wrenn, of this city, all of whom were at her bedside when her now glorified spirit left its tenement of clay for "the mansions not made with hands, eternal in the heavens." Mrs. Wrenn, we learn. has been a worthy and consistent member of the Baptist church for more than fifty-two years. To the bereaved sons of the decased we tender our sincere sympathy and condolence. Death of Mrs. Catharine Wrenn.

Mr. Freeman's horse was so badly injured yesterday that a loss of $200 will ensue. The animal, which is a fine saddler, was loose in a lot which is bound by a barb wire fence, and in playing ran against it. His breast was literally cut to pieces by the fence, and the sight made by the hanging lacerated flesh was sickening.

A horse ran away on Jackson street yesterday and broke a buggy to pieces. The mayor and fire department committee have closed a contract for the Gamewell telegraph fire alarm.

Lemons still bring fancy figures. Bananas are flooding the market. Peaches are becoming very common. One fruit stand promises grapes soon. Green figs are to be seen occasionally.

Chickens flooded the market yesterday by good butter was scarce. The fish markets were badly supplied an could fill only a few orders yesterday. Wheat was bought by the carload for one dollar and ten cents per bushel in this city yesterday.

POLICE POINTS.

There were nineteen plain drunk before he recorder yesterday. Captain Couch is a hard worker and is de ing good service for the city. Tousey Jackson, a noted lock-picker, was taken in last night by Captain Couch.

Officer Rapp has served fourteen years on the Atlanta police force last night. Fannie Morris is wanted for stealing beddin rom her late employer on Houston street. Charles Henley and Jack Harris engaged in a razor duel on Fort street yesterday. Henley was razored.

Howard Cook, a supposed accomplice of Will Pogue, the jewelry thief, was calaboosed yesterday.

Captain Barrett's house, 205 Luckie street, was entered by a burglar last night, who got away with $25 in money.

The type upon the compostone was badly pied and injured. Mr. Scott is now all right. is now all right.

A LABYRINTH OF NAMES. The Difficulty of Talking Without Mentioning Some

"From Aarant to Zurelin" is the way one we look at the Johnsons and Jenkinses we must stop counting.

The curroelites of nomenclature are various. For instance there is Mr. Pinkunshon. It is hard to say what the name was intended for in the beautiful Dutch dialect, but it is safe to say that the wearer would seriously object to having a pin stack into him in English. Of course Thomas Phibbs should not be accused of telling fibs, especially when he is innocent of the charge. As for Mr. Phurl, who is described as a printer, he was never known to furl his banner except in victory, out of consideration to the feelings of the vanquished. If we should see Anthony Rideout we would say that he was Rich, although it might be quite evident that he was Poor, and but little given to handling Cash. But, oh, Shaw! Why should this Strain be kept up?

The birds of the air have their place as well as the little fishes of the sea. Mr. Byrd is a man often met with, though under many as the little fishes of the sea. Mr. Byrd is a man often met with, though under many guises, as a Thrush, a Robbin, a Parrot, a Crow, a Partridge or a Peacock. How the peacock struts! Some of the Parrots, however, sing sweetly, and acquaintance ripens an affection even for Crow. Trout is very tasty, and Bassis in demand, but the Finney tribe is in greatest favor in Lent. When Baers walk the streets, Badgers run between your legs. Beavers slide around the corner, Barrows nose along the ditches, Bucks rush wildly down the realway, Bullocks are to be wildly down the realway, Bullocks are to be seen on every hand, Bees sting and Bacon is cheap, why should the spirit of mortal be proud? If you do not want the Ham you can call for the Briskett, according to the annimal you seek to devour. A great book, truly is the Directory!

Gents—A number of people had been using your gitters here, and with marked effect. In one case, a lady of over seventy years had been sick for years, and for the past ten years has not been able to be around half the time. About its months ago she got so feeble she was helpless. Her old remedies, or physicians, being of no avail, I sent to Deposit, forty-five miles, and got a bottle of Hop Bitters. It improved her so she was able to dress herself and walk about the house. When she had taken the second bottle she was able to take care of her own room and walk out to her neighbor's, and children also have derived great benefit from their use.

A CURIOUS CASE.

overnor Colquitt Called Upon to Do Justice Where

Governor Colentit Called Upon to Do Justice Where a Judge is Powerless to Bo It.

Whitfield county comes to the front with a curious case which demanded executive action. In that county a man named A. P. Smith was indicted and convicted of gambling, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 or serve 5½ months on the chain-gang. There was an indictment for robbery against him and he was kept in jail six months. He was then tried and acquitted of the charge of robbery, but he had served out in jail more than the full term for which he had been sentenced to work in the chain-gang. Although he had suffered enough for the offense yet there was a technical difficulty in the way of his release. The judge had sentenced him to the chaingang and not to jail, and the power to change the penalty lay in the governor. The judge, under the law, was powerless to relieve him, and he was carried to the Marietta and North Georgia railroad to serve out his sentence. deorgia railroad to serve out his sentence. Under these circumstances the presiding judge made application to the governor for a pardon for him, and on yesterday the man was pardoned. It is a curious case, but it appears that it is only the law which can be blamed.

A Shooting in South Carolina. Yesterday Chief Inspector Frey received notice from William Perry, postmaster at Walhalla, S. C., of a little shooting scrape at Cashiers, S. C. The circumstances as detailed Cashiers, S. C. The circumstances as detailed are as follows: A few days ago one of the assistant inspectors went to Cashiers to investigate a charge of fraud in the mails made against a man named H. J. Lombard. Not being able to find his man, the inspector left his warrunt with Mr. Riley Hooper and came away. When Hooper attempted to execute the warrant Lombard shot at him twice with a pistol. Hooper was armed with a shotgun, and returning the fire, struck Lombard, producing a serious but not necessarily fatal wound.
